Overview

ABSTRACT

The survey was undertaken in 2005 by the Kaplan Centre for Jewish Studies and Research at the University of Cape Town, South Africa. The project conducted face-to-face interviews with a sample of 1 000 adults from Cape Town, Durban, Pretoria and Johannesburg, where ninety percent of the country's Jewish population reside.

KIND OF DATA

Sample survey data [ssd]

UNITS OF ANALYSIS

The units of analysis in the Survey of Jewish South Africans 2005 are individuals

Scope

NOTES

The survey collected background data on Jewish people in Cape Town, including: citizenship, education levels, home language, home ownership, marital status, migration history, and number of children. Data on political and social attitudes of respondents was also collected. Collection of data specifically related to being Jewish in South Africa was the main purpose of the survey. This included data on: Childrens' enrollment in Jewish schools and the respondent's attitudes to these schools; attitudes to Israel, religious beliefs, practices and experiences; attitudes to and experiences of anti-semitism, the Jewish community and Jewish organisations.
